CREATIVE DIRECTION BY TIBURÓN

ARE YOU THAT CIVILIZED? NAH, YOU ARE STILL EVOLVING

It's fascinating to contemplate that most of human history, as we know it, can be encapsulated within just a few thousand years. When we compare this relatively brief span to the 65 million years that have passed since we last saw an enormous reptile roaming the earth, our entire human existence becomes nothing more than an instance within an eternity of time.

For much of that "instance" we have behaved like animals. We have let our primal instincts guide us; that civilized reality we now inhabit is an instance within an instance. Our civilized selves have tried hard to tame that inner animal, and in many ways, we have succeeded. We have transformed ourselves, haven't we?

Animal Nature is an art experience crafted by Tiburon Transmedia to celebrate the remarkable work of two extraordinary human animals: Latin American Austinite artists Ender Martos & Patrick Fagerberg.

The art exhibition showcases 24 astonishing pieces by these accomplished artists, serving as an anthology of their impressive catalog. Each piece reflects their unique perspectives and creative journeys.

More than an exhibition, Animal Nature is also an invitation – an opportunity for the audience to actively participate in the creation and presentation of art. As the show evolves, so too will the pieces you encounter in this catalogue.

We extend the invitation to collectors and art enthusiasts to join us on this transformative journey at animalnature.art

ENDER MARTOS

ENDERMARTOS.COM

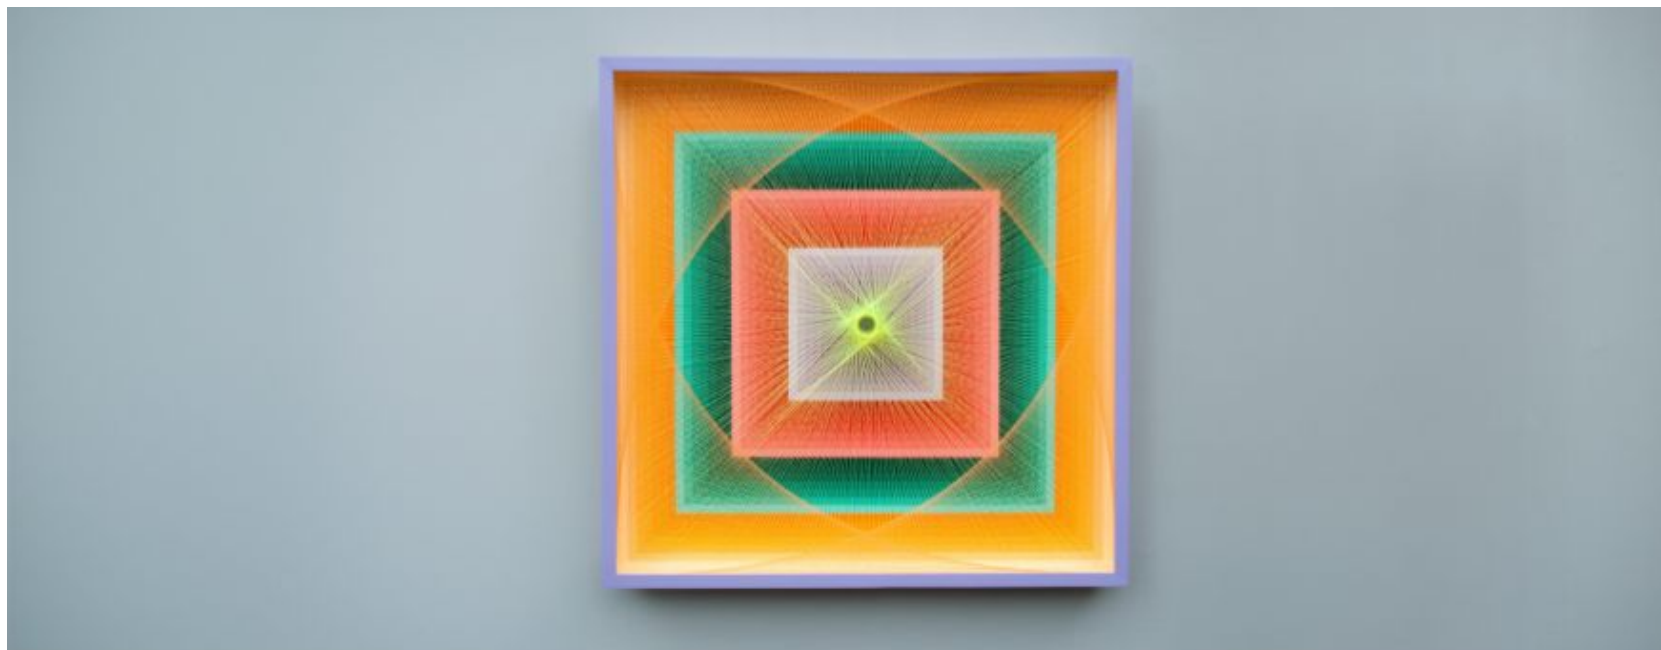

Ender Martos creates stunning, carefully crafted geometric abstract pieces that interact with the viewer and provide a multisensory experience. Within Ender's visual world, time is a construct: an interweb of moments, relationships and feelings living in a continuum state.

Ender Martos was born in Venezuela and moved to Austin, Texas at the end of the 20th century. His journey to becoming one of the most prominent visual artists in Texas is an inspiring immigrant story filled with moments of joy, anxiety and a great deal of work.

Ender's beautiful wall pieces are celebrated by collectors around the world. His astonishing public art sculptures, such as the colossal sculpture "Rebirth of Technology" (HPE headquarters, Houston) have captivated the imagination of entire cities and communities.

Despite his many accolades, Ender is ultimately a simple human animal who deeply enjoys the company of others. He is fascinated with the concept of connections; he cherishes those relationships we form with everything and everyone around us. Ender's work is a meticulous, vibrant and colorful exploration of the intelayers that make the fabric of our shared and individual realities.

GRACEFUL INTERWEB OF FEELINGS

Technology and Art have always depended on one another; they push each other forward, pushing with them the entire fate of the human race.

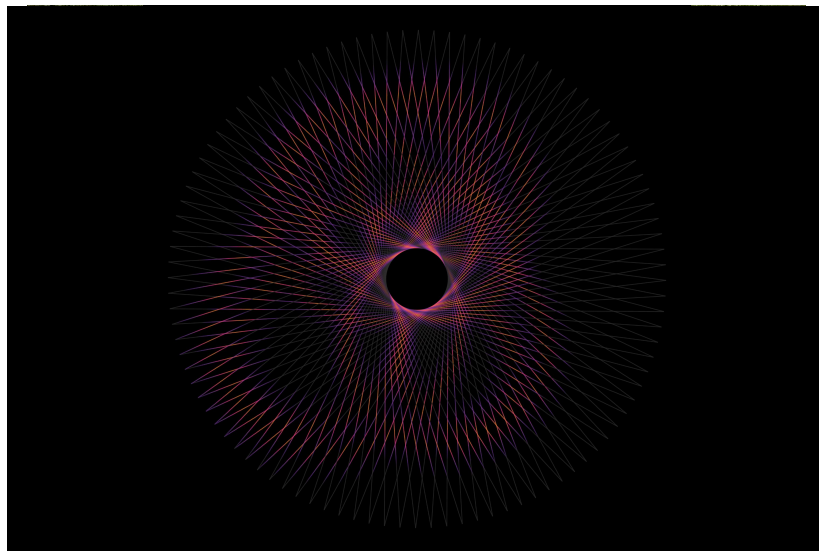

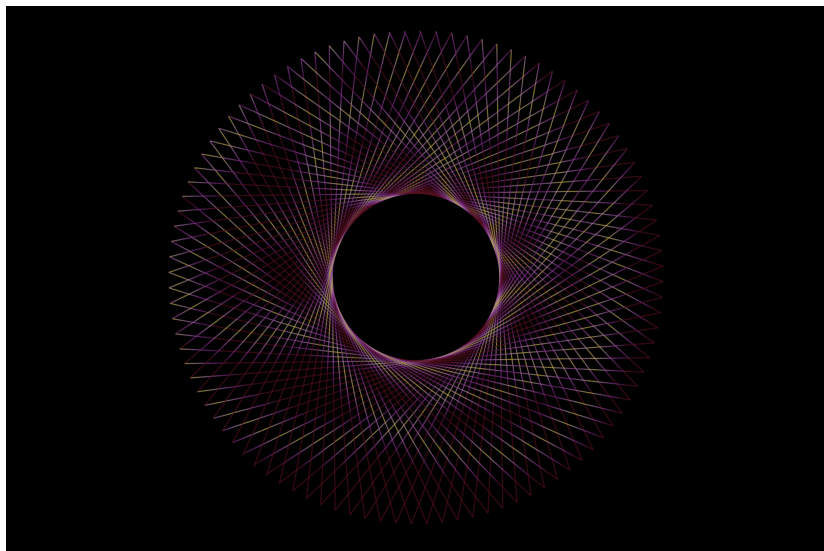

Graceful Interweb of Feelings is an interactive piece created in collaboration with the brilliant Austin-Based programmer Bryan Westcott. It uses Artificial Intelligence guided by a thoughtfully crafted code, to allow users to use their hands as tools to play within an interweb-like mesh of strings, as if they were able to magically move the complex monofilament patterns present in Ender's wall sculptures.

Each print created using Graceful Interweb of Feelings is both unique and collaborative. Through a mixed analogue and digital process, viewers mold each piece to their unique specifications, relying on other human animals to freeze their creations in time and produce a one-of-a-kind image.

Final images can be printed in both fine art paper or aluminum, as part of a highly limited Artist-signed series.

Patrick
FAGERBERGPATRICKFAGERBERG.COM

Patrick Fagerberg is an abstract expressionist painter and sculptor who can brilliantly capture raw emotion within beautiful patterns in multiple media. He is a fluke of the universe; an amalgamation of seemingly impossible realities that spawned a unique artist and human being.

Patrick Fagerberg was born in Cuernavaca, Mexico. He is the son of a renegade artist and intellectual who made the bold decision of shunning away accepted constructs of reality and take his nine children and wife on an intense journey of exploration and wonder.

Patrick is known around the world as a rare case of acquired savant. He found in painting a therapeutic tool that helped him cope with the harsh effects of a traumatic brain injury. Patrick's brain was smashed by a 400lb camera crane that fell on him at a concert of the iconic band OMD at SxSw 2011.

The 12 pieces that Patrick is showing in the Animal Nature exhibition show present the vast visual language that this prolific and remarkable artist is able to produce. Patrick's work is a testament to the mysteries of nature, and the beauty of our human emotions.

We invite you to explore Patrick's work, which includes priceless pieces from his personal collection (available only as fine art paper and aluminum prints) as well as four marvelous collaborative pieces created with Ender Martos.

ENDER MARTOS

Creating art is a very personal experience, therefore collaborations can always be challenging and complicated. Through the past few years, Tiburon has worked with Ender and Patrick channeling their diverse epistemologies to create art together. This exhibition presents four collaborative pieces from that meeting of minds.

Tiburon is a boutique creative agency established by transmedia artists and researcher Sergio Carvajal-Leoni and photographer Romina Olson, which works and collaborates with multiple visionary artists around the world. Sergio and Romina have lived, dreamed and worked together in Austin, Texas, creating revolutionary media projects in the fields of music, film, interactive and education.

For more than ten years, Tiburon has worked with Ender and Patrick to support, guide and edify their artistic careers. Tiburon believes in collaboration as the only way to achieve amazing results. The artists, with the help of Tiburon, are actively working on a unique set of three unique new collaborative pieces that will be unveiled by the show's mid point.

We invite you to visit animalnature.art to follow the creation process of these unique collaborative pieces. Also, stay tuned for the opportunity to attend an intimate artist talk where the artists will unveil the pieces.
